Your neighbors are going electric!

“Our experience of going electric has been very smooth. We love driving our EV for so many reasons, not the least of which is that we’re no longer polluting the environment when we use it and spending almost nothing to maintain the vehicle. We also take advantage of charging it overnight when electricity costs are lowest.”

- Stephen, Unincorporated County Resident and SVCE Customer

275,000+ residential and commercial customers - a 96% participation rate with SVCE
